Grandma Lin's Sweet Little Shop

林奶奶的甜蜜小舖

Grandma Lin has a small dessert shop near our school. It is not big, but it always smells sweet. Every afternoon, students stand in line outside the door. They want her famous cookies and cakes. Grandma Lin always says, 'Food made with love tastes better.'

The shop sells many kinds of snacks. There are chocolate doughnuts, cheese pies, and hot toast with butter. In summer, kids love her mango ice cream. In September, she makes moon cakes for the Moon Festival. Her candy jars sit by the window, and the colors shine in the sun.

Grandma Lin does not do it for money. She gives free cookies to children who get good grades. She also teaches us how to bake on Sundays. Last week, my friends and I made a strawberry cake with her. It was not perfect, but it was the best dessert of my life.
