Dear Diary: The Lost Pencil Case

親愛的日記：遺失的鉛筆盒

September 12, Tuesday. Rainy. Today was a bad day at first. I could not find my pencil case this morning. My ruler, my eraser, and three pens were in it. I looked in my backpack and under my desk, but it was not there. I was so worried.

In English class, I had to borrow a pencil from Lily. Then the teacher asked us to use the dictionary and write new words in our notebook. I did not have a marker, so I could not underline the important words. My page looked so plain.

After lunch, Mr. Wang came in with a blue pencil case. "Whose is this?" he asked. It was mine! I left it in the art room yesterday after we used glue and crayons. I was so happy. Tonight, I will write my name on it. I will also put a picture of my cat inside. Then I will never lose it again.
