A Talk with a Zookeeper

與動物園管理員的對談

Mr. Lin has worked at Taipei Zoo for fifteen years. Last week, our school newspaper talked to him about his job. Q: What do you do every day? A: I get up at five. First, I feed the elephants and the zebras. Then I clean the home of the pandas. They eat bamboo all day, so there is always a lot to clean!

Q: Which animal is the most dangerous? A: Many people say the lion or the tiger. But I think the hippo is more dangerous. It looks slow and friendly, but it can run fast and has very strong teeth. We never go into its pool. Q: Which animal is your favorite? A: The koala. It sleeps about twenty hours a day. When it wakes up, it looks at you like a sleepy baby.

Q: Do you have a pet at home? A: Yes, a dog and two rabbits. My daughter wants a parrot, too. Q: What do you want to tell students? A: Animals are not toys. A kitten or a puppy needs your time for many years. Think carefully before you bring one home. And please do not feed the monkeys at the zoo. Our food makes them sick.
