Green Kitchen Challenge: Calling All Young Chefs

綠色廚房挑戰賽：小廚師們集合

Attention, all students in grades 10 to 12! The Home Economics Club is proud to announce the third annual Green Kitchen Challenge, which will be held in the school cafeteria on Friday, November 20. The theme this year is 'Vegetarian Taiwan'. Every dish must be meat-free, and at least half of the ingredients should be organic produce grown in Taiwan.

Teams of two or three will have ninety minutes to prepare one main course and one dessert. Each main course must contain a good source of protein, such as soybean products, nuts, or eggs. Spinach, mushrooms, and yams will be provided for free, but teams may bring their own spices and sauces. A reminder from last year: raw vegetables must be washed thoroughly before they are sliced, and anything that has been peeled should be kept in a covered container. Dishes that are too salty or too spicy will lose points, because the judges include two elementary school students.

Desserts need not be complicated. Last year's winning team simply stirred fresh yogurt into mashed ripe plums and served it with a crispy wheat pancake. The judges called it 'the tastiest thing we have eaten all season'. Portions should be small, since each judge will be sampling more than twenty dishes.

To enter, submit your team name and recipe to Ms. Huang in Room 207 by October 30. Recipes written in English will receive extra credit for the English Department's Food Writing Award. The winning team will have their dish served in the cafeteria for a whole week. Sharpen your knives and your ideas. We look forward to tasting your creations!
